

Outside the Box Assessment Techniques for Higher Level Thinking Skills

The transition to online and remote teaching has led many to rethink teaching and learning strategies. This time creates an opportunity to consider alternate ways to assess student learning.

This workshop presents an overview of five alternative assessment techniques that engage students in higher level skills (applying, analyzing, evaluating, creating) in Benjamin Bloom's taxonomy of educational objectives.

Instructors: Carolien Annink, Phil Bonner & Angela Lanier

Tue., March 31, 2020

11:00 am–12:00 pm

Online via Zoom

Log in instructions will be sent upon registration

Wed., April 1, 2020

1:00 pm–2:00 pm

Online via Zoom

Log in instructions will be sent upon registration

Fri, April 3, 2020

9:00 am–10:00 am

Online via Zoom

Log in instructions will be sent upon registration

TO REGISTER:

1. Log in to your My MC – www.montgomerycollege.edu – and click on “Training & Professional Development”.
2. Click “MC Learns” then “Schedule of Classes and Events” and “Pedagogy & Instruction”.
3. Find your workshop and click “Enroll” at the top right corner of the page.
4. You will receive an email confirmation and an outlook invitation. Done!

For teaching resources,
visit the Hub!
[http:// mcblogs.montgomerycollege
.edu/thehub/](http://mcblogs.montgomerycollege.edu/thehub/)